

Image not found

https://sites.msudenver.edu/tpswesternregion/wp-content/uploads/sites/476/2021/11/tps_logo-1.png

ALBUM OF THEE I SING BY BARACK OBAMA

Album Description

"Of Thee, I Sing" is a book that I would use at the beginning of the school year to build our classroom community. I would read this book aloud and brainstorm with my class afterward to generate ideas about bravery, kindness, respect, creativity, exploration, love, and confidence. The students could then create a poster to illustrate as a community and display in the classroom.

Image not found

https://sites.msudenver.edu/tpswesternregion/wp-content/uploads/sites/476/2021/11/tps_logo-1.png

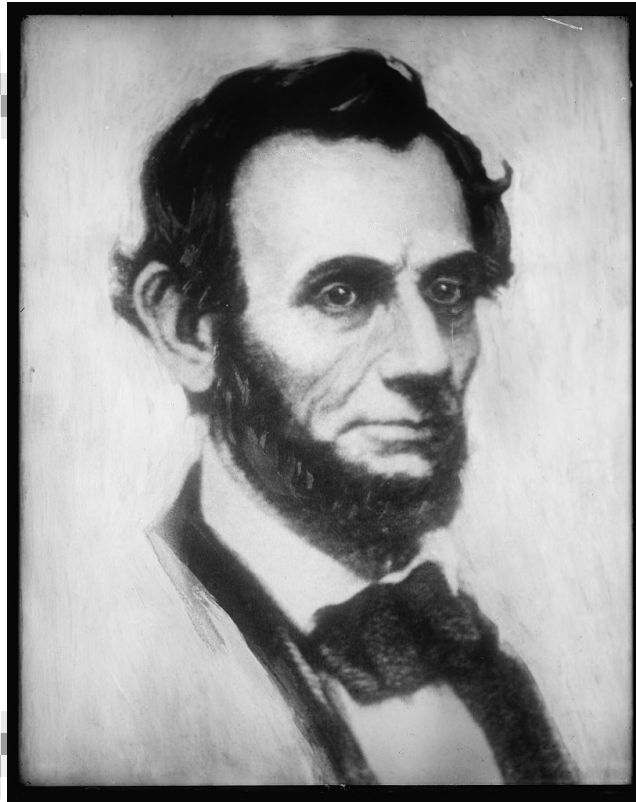

GEORGE WASHINGTON.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this drawing of George Washington from many years ago to teach students about bravery and leadership.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.JPG

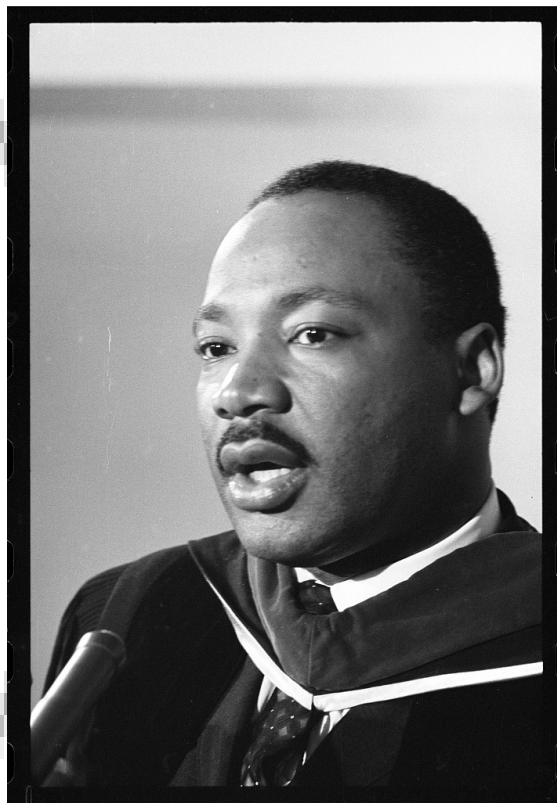

Teaching Notes:

I would use this drawing of Abraham Lincoln from many years ago to teach students about compassion, courage, and responsibility.

Image not found

https://sites.msudenver.edu/tpswesternregion/wp-content/uploads/sites/476/2021/11/tps_logo-1.png

MARTIN LUTHER KING2.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this image of Martin Luther King Jr. to teach students about peace, love, equality, bravery, and leadership.

NEIL ARMSTRONG.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this image of Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin to teach students about bravery and exploration.

Image not found

https://sites.msudenver.edu/tpswesternregion/wp-content/uploads/sites/476/2021/11/tps_logo-1.png

SITTING BULL.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this image of Sitting Bull to teach students about dedication and justice.

CESAR CHAVEZ MURAL.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this mural of Cesar Chavez to teach students about equality and perseverance.

BILLIE HOLIDAY.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this image of Billie Holiday to teach students about creativity and beauty.

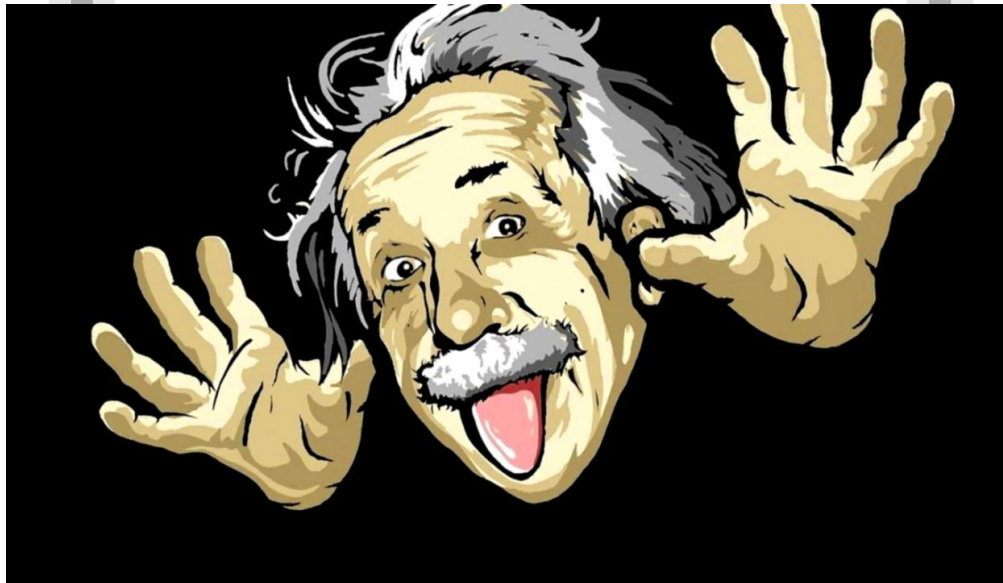

MAYA LIN.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this image of Maya Lin's memorial for civil rights to teach students about justice and creativity.

ALBERT EINSTEIN.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this drawing Albert Einstein to teach students about knowledge, exploration, and creativity.

GEORGIA O'KEEFFE.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this photo of Georgia O'Keeffe to teach students about beauty and imagination.

Image not found

https://sites.msudenver.edu/tpswesternregion/wp-content/uploads/sites/476/2021/11/tps_logo-1.png

JACKIE ROBINSON.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this image of Jackie Robinson to teach students about fairness and determination.

Image not found

https://sites.msudenver.edu/tpswesternregion/wp-content/uploads/sites/476/2021/11/tps_logo-1.png

HELEN KELLER.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this image of Helen Keller to teach students about intelligence, strength, and community.

JANE ADDAMS.JPG

Teaching Notes:

I would use this image of Jane Addams to teach students about generosity, love, and community.

Image not found

https://sites.msudenver.edu/tpswesternregion/wp-content/uploads/sites/476/2021/11/tps_logo-1.png

Teaching Notes:

A wonderful collection of images and a great book backdrop!